'the Corner'

1100 years ago a group of Viking settlers from Norway arrived somewhere between West Kirby and Meols on the shores of Wirral having been driven out of Ireland. This initiated a mass migration of their fellow countrymen into the area and soon they had established a community with a clearly defined border, its own language, a trading port and at its centre a government in Thingwall. 600 place names provide the clues as to where the Wirral Vikings settled creating a mini self-governing state. Old rental documents, displayed in the Bar refer to 'the Wro' – 'the corner' in West Kirby.

The place name was lost by the time 19th century maps were compiled.
